Meſſina, February 1.

MOnday laſt, the 30th paſt, return'd back into Port the Loyal Elizabeth, a ſmall Engliſh Ship, Capt. Henry Gannet, who, in Company of the Levant, Capt. Elias Hampton, both bound for Smyrna, ſailed from hence on the 20th in the Morning with a fair Wind, which carried them to about 30 Leagues diſtant from Cape Spartovento, where, on the 23d, the Levant ſprung a Leak, and ſoon went to the Bottom, but the Captain and Crew were ſaved by the Elizabeth.

Turin, Feb. 18, N. S. We have nothing new from the Borders of the Var, on which the beſt Part of the French, as well as of our Army, continues encamp'd. By all Accounts the Enemy ſuffer greatly from the Want of Subſiſtances, and muſt ſoon withdraw farther into Provence. They have been no leſs than four or five Days without Bread, and particularly the Column that march'd by the Mountains, is repreſented as quite ruined and reduced. Three Imperial Regiments of Foot are in full March towards Genoa, whither it is aſſured the Enemy are preparing to ſend Officers, Engineers, and a Body of Troops by Sea. All the Imperial Cavalry is got into Piemont, and ſome of their Generals daily paſs through this Town in their Way to Novi. General O Donnel, amongſt the reſt, arrived on the 16th at Night, and ſet out the next Day for Vienna, whither he is diſpatched by Count Brown. Letters from Villa Franca mention, that the Iſlands of St. Honorée and St. Marguerite are garriſoned with between 4 and 500 Auſtrian Troops, who are provided with two Months Proviſions, and a proper Quantity of military Stores, and ſome ſmall Engliſh Veſſels are ſtationed to prevent the Enemy's making an Attempt to retake them, and to aſſiſt the Garriſon; and that the Feverſham Man of War lately met with and took a Spaniſh Settee, having on board 93 Spaniſh Officers and Soldiers, which had been ſome Time on the Paſſage from Ceuta to Naples; the Officers and Soldiers are ſent Priſoners to Minorca.

Venice, Feb. 22, N. S. Captain Read, Commander of the Conſtantine, a Merchant Ship from Briſtol, lately come into this Port, took the 5th of January, near Minorca, the Eſperance, a French Ship bound from Marſeilles to Conſtantinople, laden with Cloth, Sugar and Coffee.

Hague, March 10, N. S. We are informed, that a Fregate belonging to a Convoy of 102 Sail of French Ships, which parted from Martinico on the 8th of January, N. S. eſcorted by two Men of War, and two Eaſt-India Men, was arrived at Port Louis, having been ſeparated from them by a hard Gale of Wind near the Azores. According to the Accounts from Bourdeaux and Nantz, there were but 40 of this Convoy arrived, and no News of the reſt. Letters from Paris bring Advice, That M. du Bois de la Motte, Commander of the Etoile, eſcorting the St. Domingo Fleet from Martinico nico thither, had been met about the Beginning of January laſt by four Britiſh Men of War, with two of which ſome Shot had been exchanged; but that the Etoile had outſailed them. That the Convoy had been diſperſed upon this Occaſion, and that only eight of them had got into Port, when the Advices came from thence; five having been driven on ſhore, and taken by ſome Privateers. M. du Bois was himſelf got into Cape Tiberon after a Paſſage of 63 Days; but ten Britiſh Ships were waiting under Le Mone de St. Nicolas, to intercept the Convoy homeward bound.

Erratum. In the Gazette of Saturday the 17th of January laſt, Page 2. Col. 1. for the Sheriff of Denby, inſtead of Robert Williams, of Pwlly, Eſq; read Robert Williams, of Pwll y Crochon, Eſq;.

The Honourable Houſe of Commons having encouraged Mr. Thomas Lowndes to ſhew how to improve and meliorate the Brine-Salt of this Kingdom; he therefore thinks it his Duty, to acquaint ſuch Perſons intereſted in Brine-Salt, as may not like to comply ſtrictly with his printed Method or Proceſs, that (after the Pans are purged, and the Freſh is duly diminiſhed) if they boil with much gentler Fires, they will ſave themſelves a good deal of Expence in Fewel, and ſupply the Publick with incomparably better Salt: For the fineſt and moſt ſubtle Spirit of the Brine evaporates by too long a Continuance of intenſe Heat, and the natural Grain of the Salt is thereby alſo quite deſtroy'd.

It is likewiſe apprehended, that this Intimation will be very ſerviceable in making Salt from Sea-Water.

Whitehall, February 24, 1746-7.

It having been repreſented to His Majeſty, that John Simkins, Henry Francombe, William Smart, and Harman Seagar, all of Chippenham, in the County of Wilts, were, on the Second of this Inſtant February, in a Barn, near the Road on the Top of Kingſdown Hill, in the Pariſh of Box, in the ſaid County, aſſaulted, beaten, and abuſed, in a moſt cruel Manner, by Seven or Eight Men in Diſguiſe; and that Harman Seagar ſoon after died of the Wounds he then received: His Majeſty, for the better diſcovering and bringing to Juſtice the Perſons concerned in committing the ſaid Murder, is graciouſly pleaſed to promiſe his Pardon to any one of them, who ſhall diſcover his Accomplice or Accomplices, ſo as they, or any of them, may be apprehended and convicted thereof. And as a further Encouragement for making ſuch Diſcovery as aforeſaid, his Majeſty is pleaſed to promiſe a Reward of One Hundred Pounds, to be paid on the Conviction of any one or more of the Offenders.

And in Caſe any of the ſaid Officers ſhall not be able to attend themſelves to receive their Money, but employ Attorneys for that Purpoſe, that the ſaid Attorneys may produce the like Certificates and Affidavits Affidavits from the Perſons they are employed by. Dated at the Navy Office the 13th of February 1746.
